1841

Texas Pres MIRABEAU LAMAR sent 265 soldiers & 38 Cavaliers from Kenney's Fort, just north of Austin to Santa Fe in an attempt to establish trade and to quietly establish jurisdiction over the south of the NUECES R.
Mexico viewed this as an invasion
New Mexico Governor Manuel

ARMISTO intercepted this expedition before it reached Santa Fe and captured the weary group with no resistance. The Texans were marched to Mexico City and the abuse they suffered along the way incited the people of Texas

1841 \Rightarrow 1900

The Europeans abroad and their ex-colonial cousins, reinforced by 50 million emigrants from Europe, overwhelmed the world. Canneries and refrigeration made possible the shipping of meat across continents and oceans. Ingenious machinery for farms and cheap steel plows strong enough to tackle virgin grasslands enabled American harvests of corn & wheat to increase 7-fold between 1844 and 1900.
